- We use at to show a specific place or position:

They are waiting at the bus stop.

Someone is at the door.

I used to live at 51 Portland Street.

Can you see that car at the traffic light?

- We use on to show position on a horizontal or vertical surface and when we read, see or learn something in the media:

The cat is sleeping on the mat.

They live on the 2nd floor in that building.

I prefer to watch the game on TV.

- We also use on to show position on streets, roads, etc. and also for public transport:

Their shop is on Portland Street.

I am on the right bus now.

When I travel, I always watch a movie on the plane.

- We use in to show that something / someone is enclosed:

She is in a taxi.

Read the article in the newspaper.

Put it in the box.

- We also use in to show position within land-areas (towns, counties, states, countries, and continents):

I live in Nottingham.

At this moment they are in South America.

In the north of Spain, the weather is quite wet.

- PREPOSITIONS OF MOVEMENT (DIRECTION) ARE USED AFTER VERBS TO DESCRIBE THE DIRECTION OF THE MOVEMENT. IT'S COMMON TO USE THESE PREPOSITIONS AFTER VERBS THAT DESCRIBE MOVEMENT (WALK, RUN, COME, GO, DRIVE, CYCLE, FLY, ETC.).
