The Simple Past (or Past Simple) is a verb tense that is used to talk about things that happened or existed before now. Actions or events took place at a specific time in the past.

Examples:

They saw a movie yesterday.

I traveled to Japan two months ago.

Last year, I didn't travel to New York.

Did you have dinner with your family last night?

He didn't study for his exam.

The conjugation of verbs in the simple past is the same for all forms, we add -ed to the regular verbs, but the irregular verbs have to be learned by heart. In questions and negative sentences, we use the auxiliary verb did or did not together with the main verb in the infinitive form.

In English, most verbs are regular in their past form:

Infinitive Form	Past Tense Form	Negative Form	Question Form
to ask	asked	did not ask	Did ask?
to call	called	did not call	Did call?
to live	lived	did not live	Did live?
to work	worked	did not work	Did work?

Did you visit your grandparents last weekend?

He started a course on electronics last month.

I didn't play tennis when I was young, I played handball.

Some verbs are irregular in their past form:

Infinitive Form	Past Tense Form	Negative Form	Question Form
to be	was / were	was not/were not	Was / Were....?
to have	had	did not have	Did have?
to do	did	did not do	Did do?
to get	got	did not get	Did get?
to make	made	did not make	Did make?
to go	went	did not go	Did go?
to see	saw	did not see	Did see?

Did you write the report?

He fell from his bike yesterday, poor thing!

I didn't say she was wrong, I said I don't agree with her.

➤ Most regular verbs (for example: want, rain, wait, cook, kiss, etc.) usually add -ed to form the past tense:

My brother start*ed university in March. (start)

Angela watch*ed TV all night. (watch)

➤ If the infinitive of a regular verb ends in -e (for example: live, love, like, dance, etc.), we add -d to form the past tense:

Wallace and Jane move*d into their new house yesterday. (move)

They smile*d and walked away. (smile)

If the present form of a regular verb ends in -y and is preceded by a consonant (for example: cry, fry, try, etc.), change the -y to -i and add -ed and if the -y is preceded by a vowel (for example: survey, play, pray, etc.) just add -ed to form the past form of the verb:

The employees carried the heavy boxes to the truck. (carry)

We enjoyed the party a lot, it was amazing! (enjoy)

If a verb ends in a vowel and a consonant (for example: beg, admit, etc.), the consonant is usually doubled before -ed (except the consonants -w, -x and -y):

I planned all the event by myself. (plan)

She stopped smoking five years ago. (stop)

The verb "To Be" is an irregular verb but instead of one form it has two different words in its past form: was and were.

Was & Were

AFFIRMATIVE

I was happy.
He was hungry.
She was a nurse.
It was big.

We were early.
You were at school.
They were quiet.

NEGATIVE

I wasn't sad.
He wasn't thirsty.
She wasn't a teacher.
It wasn't small.

wasn't = was not

We weren't late.
You weren't at home.
They weren't noisy.

weren't = were not
